APPREHENSION OF A NEW INSURRECTION IN BULGARIA.

The Jamaica Gleaner of the 4th inst. publishes the following letter to A. Gregg, esq., United States Consni at Kingston, on a subject which has, it is to be hoped, received ere this the attention of the Government at

Weshington:

UNITED STATES CONSULATE,
SP. THOMAS, W. I., July 15, 1868.

To the Consul of the United States, Kingston, Jameica, W. I.

BIR: You will greatly oblige me if, as soon as possible after the receipt of this, you will be so good as to demand and beg, in my name, of the nearest other commanding the United States payel forces, that a ship of war be in-mediately sent to Puerto Cabello and La Guayra. All the representatives of foreign powers in Caraccas, La Guayra, and Puerio Cabello, together with all the fereign residents in these rities, cencur as to the necessity of armed forces to protect not only the property, which is being daily stolen, but the lives of foreigners in Venezueia. So great is the emergency, that I have left my Legation, at Caraccas, and come to this place in a special vessel in Search of a man-of-war. There are none here or at Santa Crnz.

I believe that the siege of Puerto Cabello has begun, and that our citizens are suffering for want of food, and more especially for want of water. Petitions from our Consuls and citizens and foreigners of all nations have poured in upon us. They demand help and protection. The so-called Burzual Government at Puerto Cabello his declared a bleckade of La Guayra and the coast, which I believe they cannot maintain. A war vessel is needed to watch this. I write in haste and briefly, but I beg you will consider what I have said to be in the strongest and most decided terms. I am, &c., &c., G. C. PRUYS,

PLANTER OPPOSITION TO AN ENGLISH JUDGE-THE REVENUE-MEASURES OF LEGISLATION

-INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS. We have advices from Kingston, Jamaica to Considerable excitement prevailed in the parish of St Thomas, the scene of the disturbances of 1865, in conse quence of the course which was being pursued by one of the Judges, Mr. Masheder, recently appointed to the Colony by the British Government. He is charged with having made a series of attacks upon the planters of the having made a series of attacks upon the planters of the parish, accusing them of injustice in their dealings with the laborers they employ, and of abusing their powers as magistrates to the injury of the blacks. His real offense seems to be that he holds the scales of justice evenly, knowing ne distinction between whites and blacks, or between planters and peasants, in his administration of the law. The plainters were up in arms against him for protecting the people in their rights, and laborers, men and women, who have been suffering at the hands of their employers, were threatening to abundon the piantations. He is bitterly denounced for having sent a female of fair skin and "respectable connections" to the House of Correction; but he meets the storm fearlessly, and says he is determined to dispense British justice, and not planters' haw.

The returns of revenue for the quarter ending June 30 show that there has been an increase in the general revenue for the quarter of $22,500 over the corresponding quarter of last year.

In the expectation that there will shortly be some legislation on the Church question, petitions from non-conformist bodies continued to flow into the Legislative Council, praying for the dis-establishment of the Church. The Agent-General of Immigration had left for Eugland, encrete for India, where he is to act as Emigration Agent for Jamaica for a period of three years. The planters complain of the description of Cooles hitherto sent them, and hence the dispatch of this gentleman to India, to select such laborers as are adapted to the work to be done on the sugar plantations.

The bill to enable the International Ocean Telegraph Company to work telegraphs in and through the island had passed the Legislative Council.

The Government had introduced a bill to encourage the settlement of medical men in the rural districts.

The extension of the railroad was progressing rapidly. Eight miles of the track of the new road had been cleared and leveled in a very short time.

LEGION PARADE AT NEWARK.

A battalion drill of several of the Grant and Colfax Legions was held at Newark last evening. At eight o'clock the line was formed, Col. William Ward in command. The Freilinghuysen Engineer Corps headed the line, armed with pickaxes and spades. They attracted considerable attention and admiration, not only on account of the novelty of their "equipments" but for their steady march and solid columns. Then followed in the line the Legions of the Second. Third, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, and Thirteenth Wards. They numbered fully 500 men, and in their quiet, orderly bearing gave ground for the opinion that they will fight this campaign in a determined manner and with good results. The chilusheim ran high.

I shall not, therefore, be able to attend it. EX-SENATOR CARLILE'S SUPPORT OF GEN.

The following is an extract from the letter of ex-Senator John S. Carlile of West Virginia, referred to in our dispatches yesterday :

My opposition to Radicalism is well known. That I would have saved the Union party from it, if it and been in my power, is also well known. So great was my opposition to the ultraism of Congressional legislation, and so sincere my convictions, that, rather than abate the one or surrender the other, I gave up my place in the Senate, and for a time lost the confidence of my Union friends. I had hoped and expected that the action of the New York Convention would have entitled its nominees to the support of Conservative Union men. Had its members pledged themselves to the maintenance of the right of local self-government in the States, as secured by the Constitution, nominated as their Presidential candidate a man of undoubted Unionism, who believed in the right of the Government to protect itself, and enforce its lawful authority, I should have voted for its nominees. This was not done. On the contrary, it is my opinion that Hendricks was defeated because he is not a believer in the right of secession. The war record of Huncock defeated him. Mr. Vallandiugham's patriotism nominated Saymour, and crushed the aspirations of the Chief-Justice. The friends of "the lost cause" triumphed over the Unionism of the Convention, and the strife of the battle-field is to be renewed, to be fought out at the ballot-box. As much as I am opposed to the Radical legislation of the last six years, I am more opposed to disunion. So long as we are one people vicious legislation may be corrected, even constitutional amendments may be abolished, and constitutional amendments may be abolished, and constitutional therty preserved; but once divided into separate States, under different Governments, liberty and prosperity, peace and good government are lost forever. Grant will receive no support from Secossionists or their sympathizers; they are all to be found in the ranks of the party supporting Mr. Seymour. The conservatism of Republicanism nominated Seymour. If the Supreme Court shall decide, as the Democracy hold it will decide next Winter, the Reconstruction legislation of Congressional interference or Executive dictation, to form for itself its own Constitution, provided it be republican in form. If this be so, the Governments created by the Constitutions of the seceded States, under the laws of Congression and the republished, and will not the war have been fought in vain! It is not possible, in the limits allowed by t

A correspondent of The Chicago Times (Democratic) has been writing sketches of the towns along the Pacific Railroad. These towns, he finds, are the creations of a day, and their population is mainly made up of adventurers, murderers, gamblers, thieves, and prostitutes. One of the worst is Benton, Dakota Territory. The Pacific Railroad was extended beyond it a few days ago, and Frankr Blair, as one of the Commissinioers on the part of the Government inspected it. On his return to Benton he was recomized, and forced by its Democratic population to make a speech. He did so, and we make the following extracts, as reported by The Times correspondent:

I regret I cannot talk to you an hour or two. [Cries of "Go on, go on."] You don't look much like bondholders imuch langhter), and were you a little further East I know your votes would tell fearfully against the party of moral ideas and excessive taxes for the poor, a party which, by fair means or foul, is bound to win in this coming campaign—if it can it. Under cheering, I This Radical corruption must cease. Next Fall it will cease—and we hope forever. Our motto is Justice to White Men. The Democratic platform adopted by the party has already frightened thousands from the cowardly ranks of the Radicals, and thousands more will flee. [A voice—"The Democratic flea is too much for them;" great langhter.] The great masses of this mighty Republic have no aminity with the negro. [Prolonged applause.] The right of elective franchise is for the white man alone; and the ruinous system introduced into the Radical party and platform is opening the eyes of the people to such an extent that overwhelming majorities will crown our bright, proud hanners with such a glorous victory that the huzzas will shake the very earth to its foundations." [Immense and enthusnastic applause.]

The reporter is very jubilantiover this reception, and contrasts it with that received by Gen. Grant, whom he says was called upon by a fow people. After the graphic description given of the settlers of thi

A letter by the Hon. E. G. Squier from Richfield Springs, to Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper contains the following testimony by the gallant Admiral D. D. Porter in refutation of the slanders which have been heaped upon Gen. Grant by his enemies:

been heaped upon Gen. Grant by his sneusies:

Admiral Porter is a visitor at this modest watering place the quietest and least obtrusted of list quiet Summer demzens, who discuss political affairs with moderate zeal, and on whom the flery appeals of the partisan press fall with no more startling result than is indicated in the following observation from a well-conditioned retired merchant of our own city. "Of course," said this worthy representative of an impertant class, "we must elect Grant, especially in view of the new revolution now threatened by the Robels and their sympathizers; but what a pity that the General drinks!"

The promunigators of the allegation against the General would have sunk away under the frown of the brave and bronzed sailor, when he exclaimed in reply:

"Sir, I pronounce the story of Gen. Grant's intemperance a falsehood. I have known him since the commencement of the war. Our relations while cooperating on the Mississippi were intimate. They were equally intimate on Hampton Roads, on the James River, and on the Potomae. They have been so since the war, both in Washington and Annapolis. I have shared his hospitalite.

I have met him under ait direumstances of fatigue and of festivity, in suisinte and in storm, in despondency and in danger, and have had every opportunity of learning his habits and knowing his conduct; and I say that, during the whole period of my acquantanceship with nim. I have never known him to taste, nor have I over heard of his touching, intoxic cating liquors of any kind, not even wine. In common with all the officers of the army and the mavy who have served with Gen. Grant and shared his intimacy, I have been both shocked and outraged in reading and hearing this allegation against him; and had my position been different, and had it not been that my motives might be misunderstood or misrepresented, I would have long acceptance. misunderstood or misrepresented, I would have long aco denounced the slander on Gen. Grant as it deserves. I repeat, Gen. Grant is decidedly a temperate man, in prin-ciple and in practice. You, Sir, and those who hear me, may repeat what I say to you, on my authority as an officer and a man."

Although Gov. Swann has keptthimself aloof from the movement of the Maryland Conservatives toward Grant, the Democrats have began to oppose him publicly for Congress, asserting that if elected he would give his whole influence in favor of Grant. Ex-Gov. Bradford is now engaged in preparing an address to the Conservatives of the country, inviting them to join the Maryland conservatives in supporting Grant and Colfax.

The smoke of their common patriotism goes up for their commission and in the health and spritts, and alike confident of the olection of their respective tickets. COMMISSIONER ROLLINS AND THE WHITE-HOUSE POLITICIANS—THE GULF STATES AND THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION—THE TOBACCO WAREHOUSES—THE ALASKA FUR TRADE—GEN. RAWLINGS—CHIEF-JUSTICE CHASE. WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Aug. 19, 1868

The White-House politicians confidently affirm that in a few days arrangements are to be completed which will induce Commis ioner Rollins to resign absolutely in favor of some person who is yet in the background. How this is to be brought about is known only to those who are in the plot, for Mr. Rollins himself has no such thought, nor has he been approached with any proposition from persons who are acting in the White-House interest. The explanation of these mysteries and apparently semi-official declarations is that the Democrats have concocted a series of charges against Mr. Rollins, which they will submit to the President, if they have not already submitted them, with a request that the Commissioner be suspended for misconduct. He will then have the alternative offered him of resigning unconditionally or of being suspended. This is the programme to be developed soon. The most decided Republicans, both here and in various parts of the country, have written to Mr. Rollins advising him to stand firm and under no circumstances to surrender the office. He ought to "stick," they say, until he is summarily dispossessed by the President on charges formally made under the Civil Tenure-of-Office law. As ne genuine charges can be established against Mr. Rellins, since his whole administrat on has been perfectly unexceptionable, it is hardly probable that the President will resort to the extreme measure of suspension, although he is strongly pressed by the Dem-Southern letters intimated that the Rebel Democracy of the Gulf States in en l, after the reasse bling of Congress, to make an open issue of the right of the excluded States to vote in the approaching Presidential election. They await only a hint from the President to hold separ to elections for white voters, at which they will choose Rebel electors to vote for Seymour and Blair. At the recent meeting of the Mississippi Democratic Executive Committee it was resolved to be inexpedient then to nominate an electoral ticket, but that such nominations should be deferred until the next meeting of the Committee, to take place on the 22d of September. It was furthermore resolved that in the opinion of the Committee the act of Congress excluding the State of Mississippi from her right to vote in the Presidential election is in contravention of the Con titution of the United States and of the rights of the States thereunder. Other resolutions which were adopted, declare the expulsion of Gov. Humphreys from the executive mansion by military force under Gen, Grant to be without authority of law, and appoint a committee to correspond with Gen. Grant and the President on the subject, and that representative men of South ern Democratic sentiments, be requested to represent the South on the Northern hustings in the present canvass, and that a Committee of Correspondence be appointed to bring this subject to the attention of the Democratic Committees and leading members of the party North. A committee was also appointed to prepare an address to the Democracy of the North-Commissioner Rollins has under consideration the petition of the proprietors of tobacco bonded warehouses in New-York for relief from the operations of the new tax law. Under the old law bonded warehouses for tobacco were established in the stores of many of the heavy dealers, and the Government storekeepers were paid by the proprietors of the warehouses. Under the new law provision is made for storing tobacco, snuff, and cigars, in bonded warehouses, for which storekeepers are to be employed, whose compensation is fixed at five dollars per day, to be paid by Government. This will necessitate a large reduction in the number of bonded warehouses for these goods, the proprieters of which complain that the new law materially interferes with and curtails their business operations. The same complaint also comes from Philadelphia. Mr. Adolph Witzleben of this city has been appointed XXXIId District of New-York. The appointment of Supervisors is still pending, none having yet been made. Commissioner Rollins intends soon to send over nominations for the remaining districts.

Congress at the late session in an act relating to Alaska, provided that it shall be unlawful for any person to kill marten, musk, sable, or fur seal, or other fur-bearing animals within the limits or territories or waters thereof. The penalty for a violation of the law is a fine of not less than $200, nor more than $1,000, or imprisonment of not more than exx months. The Secretary of the Treasury, however, has power to authorize the killing of any such for-bearing animals except the fur seal; but he is prohibited from granting special privileges for that purpose. In accordance with his prescribed duty to prevent a violation of the law, he has already dispatched a ship to Alaska, and general regulations as to the killing of fur-bearing animals are now in preparation.

Commissioner Foote of the Patent Office has promoted Samuel Duncan First Assistant Examiner to special daty in the Commissioner's room as his assistant, and V. D. The work of moving the office of the Agricultural Department to the new building in South Washington is progressing rapidly. The library and laboratory have already been moved, and by next week the Commissioner, and most of the officers of the Department, will have made themselves at home in their new quarters. The Washington Fire Department has been reorganized by the Board of Fire Commissioners. It is now composed of white men; the blacks, who were employed on the advent of the present city administration, having been dismissed. Gen. Rawlings, who had a severe attack of hemorrhage two or three days ago, has recovered, and was at Army Hendquarters a short time this morning. Among the visitors at the White House this mornng were Gens. Hancock and Rousseau, both of whom had an interview with the President.

The rumors that our Government contemplates a protectorate of Mexico are without foundation. Chief-Justice Chase has returned to Washington from Parkersburg.
